LIMIT TRUCKS TO 35 MILES

In a move to conserve available trucking equipment, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has ruled that no private truck or trailer may operate more than 35 miles from its registered address without a special permit after November 1st. Every vehicle affected by the order must have attached or painted on both sides of the body letters and figures of not less than one inch in height, indicating the name of the owner and the registered address of the machine.

Bob Bannan, of the R.C.A.F., Brandon, is spending a brief furlough with his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Bannan.

Mrs. C. B. Harmer, of Calgary, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. H. B. Bowell, are visiting for two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harmer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Malino, of Trail, were week-end visitors with relatives and friends in Coleman and Blairmore. One of the oldest landmarks in East Blairmore, near the former cement plant, was built and occupied by them forty years ago. Both are looking hale and almost as young as ever. Malino, however, misses his natural teeth and couldn't bite a neck on a bet. They have been residing in Trail for quite a few years now, and rather like it there.

CARD OF THANKS

James F. Macleod, 64, one of the best known oldtimers of the Pincher Creek-Cowley district, died at his ranch home on the South Fork on Friday last. Nephew of the late Col. J. F. Macleod, well known leader of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in their trek across the plains in 1874, and founder of old Fort Macleod, he was born in Oak Ridges, Ontario, and came west 51 years ago. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. C. S. Tench, of the South Fork, and brother, Norman T. Macleod, of Lethbridge.

R.C.A.F. BOMBER FINDS TARGET THROUGH CLOUD OF FLAK

As a flight of bombers sailed over enemy territory on its way to the target of the day, a gunner poked his camera over the side and made this photograph of a Stirling bomber surrounded by anti-aircraft gunbursts. On every mass bombing raid, over Hamburg, Essen and all the other huge Nazi munitions centres, fighting fliers of the R.C.A.F. do their share in the work of crippling the enemy's munitions industry. Any one of those chunks of flak in the above photo could have meant tragedy to the courageous Canadian crew, but it is a matter of record that they went on to the target, dropped the bomb load and returned safely to their base.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Nick Papp and family have returned from a trip of a few weeks to points in Eastern Canada.

Miss Jean Marr, of Twin Butte, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bundy for a few days this week.

Miss Barbara Bundy, who has been employed at a Vancouver Island hospital for the past year, returned home on Friday afternoon's train, and after a few days with her parents, accompanied by her mother, continued on to Wolfville, N.S., where she is to be married in the immediate future.

On Monday afternoon Tom Heap's place was hard hit by hail, which piled up four inches. The Nelson ranch also received some damage when the storm drifted on into the Porcupine Hills country.

On Thursday, around 6 p.m., a heavy electric storm passed over this district with heavy rain falling for about an hour. During the storm Cecil Maloff's barn, within a mile of town, was struck by lightning and was a mass of flames in a few minutes and was completely burned to the ground.

On Friday last Mose Thibart almost lost his home by fire. Mrs. Thibart was baking in the afternoon and built up a good hot fire in the cook stove when she got rather suspicious of the old stovepipes and ran upstairs to see the roof of the house all ablaze. She called the men folk, who were working around the barn, when they rushed with pails of water and in due time had the fire extinguished.

Mrs. M. A. Murphy entertained the Ladies' Aid of the United Church at her home on Thursday afternoon. Business consisted of a vote to send a few dollars to the Home Mission Fund and discussing ways and means of raising money to help the cause along.

On Monday night a miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Barbara Bundy. Entertainment took the form of cards, progressive whist. Prizes were won as follows: Miss Jean Marr, ladies' first; Mrs. Robert Littleton, consolation; M. A. Murphy, gent's first; Vic Lewin, consolation. Dick Alexander was master of ceremonies. In well chosen words, Arthur Tustian made the presentation speech, which was replied to very fittingly by the bride-elect.

FORMER GENERAL MANAGER OF INTERNATIONAL PASSES

News came as a shock on Thursday morning of the very sudden death at Vancouver of Mr. O. E. S. Whiteside. Mr. Whiteside was in Coleman and Blairmore over the week end and availed of the opportunity of meeting many of his old friends and associates. At that time he boasted enjoying better health than for some time past. He left by Monday afternoon's train for Lethbridge, where he boarded the Trans-Canada Airlines plane for the coast. It is believed the high altitude they are required to travel was too much for him. He is survived by Mrs. Whiteside and one daughter (Adele) now Mrs. John Woecker, residing at Sarnia, Ontario, to which point the body will likely be shipped for burial.

Mr. Whiteside came to the Crows' Nest Pass about forty years ago, and for a number of years was manager of the West Canadian Collieries operations at Lillie, later taking over the general management of the International Coal & Coke Company at Coleman, which position he held until about ten years ago. He was very well and favorably known throughout this district.

Quintuplets—three girls and two boys—were born to Mrs. Thomas Leydon near Sligo, Ireland, on July 31st. Two of the girls died shortly after birth, but the others are reported doing well.

In the minds of housewives doing preserving and making jam these days is the ever present question, will the reduced sugar allowance made for preserving and canning keep the fruit as well as the quantities of sugar formerly used? The answer is yes. According to all tests made by the consumer section, department of agriculture, it is found that jams and preserved fruits keep just as well as they did with the old cup for cup measurement. They are also better for health and have a better color and truer fruit flavor.

DUNCAN C. DRAIN PASSES ON

The death occurred Saturday morning last of Duncan C. Drain, 74, following an illness of several months.

The late Mr. Drain came to the Crows' Nest Pass from the U.S. about forty years ago. For a number of years following 1907 he operated the former Blairmore Hotel, which at the time was one of the finest hostleries in the Pass.

Quitting the hotel game some eighteen years ago, he later took up employment at the local mine, which he followed till obliged to retire through illness. His brother, D. N. Drain, predeceased him about eighteen years ago, while his wife passed away within recent years. Left to mourn are two sons, Charlie and Daniel, and one daughter, Dora, to whom general sympathy is extended.

Funeral took place from the home on Tuesday forenoon, and was quite well attended. Service was held at St. Anne's church, Rev. Dean M. A. Harrington officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the family plot in St. Anne's cemetery. Pallbearers were: J. Angus MacDonald, S. J. Lamey, J. P. O'Neill, C. Hughson, S. G. Bannan and R. Mudiman, of the R.C.M.P., will act as drill instructor and disciplinarian, F. E. Millett on radio and other forms of signalling, C. Snyder on internal combustion engines, and F. Turner on physics and airplane modelling.

Our Hours Of Leisure

Are Usually Much More Enjoyable After Period Of Work

I think it is almost as important that people should make as good use of periods of leisure as of hours of labor. The period of leisure is becoming ever more important now that it is better assured than it was a generation ago. One of the first essentials to the enjoyment of leisure is that it should have been preceded by a period of work.

I am sure there is not one of the million rich who really enjoys as much as the man who has worked before he enjoys his leisure. The man who knows how to spend his leisure in the way which he will really enjoy is going to work all the better for having the prospect of leisure before him. The best use of leisure is change of occupation, and doing things you really enjoy. That is more lasting pleasure than any form of entertainment.—Viscount Grey.

Solves Problem

How To Meet The Greatly Increased Income Tax

Jaqueline Sprung, 18-year-old Toronto city hall switchboard operator, has the solution to the problem of how to meet the greatly increased income taxes. Her answer is a "Victory budget."

Miss Sprung who says she always tries to live on a strict budget, has designed one to absorb the increased "take" out of her pay envelope. Her salary is only about $14.40 a week, but her tax for 1942, according to her figures will be $78.50.

Like hundreds of other working girls, Miss Sprung has already given up silk stockings. She wears none at all, not even painted ones, to work.

"It was a little embarrassing with bare legs at first," she said. "But most of the girls are doing it now, and it saves worry about runs as well as money." She saves leg paint for dances and parties.

Here is her victory budget. Salary about $14.40 per week:

	Present Budget	Victory Budget
Board	$5.00	$5.00
Lunches	1.25	1.00
Carfare75	.75
Clothes	4.00	3.70
Cosmetics	1.10	.90
Taxes50	1.54
Entertainment ..	1.00	.75
War stamps50	.75
Total	$14.40	$14.40

The increased tax, Miss Sprung met by "stealing a little from entertainment and cosmetics. Not satisfied with this contribution to the war effort, patriotic Miss Sprung stole another quarter from lunches and tucked it in on war savings stamps, an item which has been in her budget ever since they were offered for sale.

Clothes, the largest item in Miss Sprung's budget, outside of board, suffered relatively slight injury.

"I think it is our duty to keep presentable," she said. "We can't go around looking frowzy; that wouldn't help keep chips up."

Dream Of Designer

Russian Builder Of Planes Aims At Comfort, Not Speed

When Oliver Lytton landed in Britain from America he had the distinction of being one of the first passengers to cross the Atlantic in the giant Sikorsky flying-boat Excambur, whose initial flight was planned as long as five years ago.

American Export Air Lines, Inc., have fought valiantly at Washington for a permit to rival the subsidized Clipper service, but Pan-American Airways (who run the Clippers) remained victorious. Now, under war urgencies, the battle is apparently over.

Among other priority passengers in the Excambur were Lord Moore, personal private secretary to Mr. Lytton, and C. R. Morris, Raw Materials Division of the office of the Ministry of Production.

The flight is a reminder of the long air history of the designer, Igor Sikorsky. He began building at Kiev early this century; had a hard battle. In 1913 he built the first airworthy multi-motored plane, and during the last war constructed 72 four-motored bombers for the Russians.

His peace ambitions incline to comfort rather than speed. Transoceanic planes with 50 staterooms, dining-cum-lounge rooms, promenade decks, smoking lounges and a library are his target.—London Daily Sketch.

BACON FOR BRITAIN

An indication of what Canadian farmers are doing to help Britain win the war is the announcement from Ottawa that not less than 600,000,000 pounds of bacon and pork products will be shipped to Britain this year. More is now being delivered in a single week than in the whole of 1931.

Vancouver Island, off the British Columbia and Washington coasts, recent target for Japanese shell-fire, was discovered by 16th Century Spanish explorers, but ceded to England under the treaty of Nootka signed in 1790.

ABRAHAM'S INTERCESSORY PRAYER

Devotional reading: John 17:1-11.

Explanations and Comments

The Setting of Our Lesson, where Abraham Learns God's Purpose Regarding the People of Sodom, Genesis 18:1-22. In the first verse of our chapter we are told that Jehovah appeared unto Abraham as he sat at the entrance to his tent one morning in Hebron, and in the second verse three men appear suddenly on the scene. Abraham receives the strangers hospitably, has water brought for their feet and a sumptuous repast prepared for them. Then he escorts them on their way toward Sodom, whither to the devoted village of Beni Navim, three miles east of Hebron, Dr. Driver suggests where the Dead Sea, a mile away, can be reached through pools in the hills, and the mountains of Moab beyond it are distinctly visible. In the distance before them lie Sodom and Gomorrah and its eve of their destruction.

One of the three men we are to understand is Jehovah. In verses 17-19 of our chapter, which interrupt the narrative and are explanatory of what follows, Jehovah is spoken of as soliloquizing about taking Abraham into his confidence, and the reason is given as his final decision to do so. "It was essential," the One Volume Commentary comments, "that God's servant as founder of a great nation should understand God's dealings with affairs, and that whilst his anger and of great kindness he is a righteous God who will by no means clear the guilty."

Abraham Pleads With God for the People in Sodom, Genesis 18:22-33. Abraham's compassion is aroused at the thought of the righteous perishing with the wicked. While two of the celestial visitors continue on their way to Sodom, Abraham remains standing before Jehovah, and begs him to save Sodom if there are fifty righteous ones in the city. "That he far from this to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked," he exclaims. This avers of Peter's presumptuous remark to Jesus, "Be it far from thee, Lord," and Abraham's further question, "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?" sounds like a bold challenge of God. But we may rather read it as an affirmative sentence, a challenge to his own faith, an expression of confident certainty of God's wisdom and justice, a magnificent declaration of unshakable faith in God.

The Fate of the Cities of the Plain and of Lot and his Family, Genesis 19:1-29. The two visitors, while Abraham was learning about the justice and mercy of God, continued on their way to Sodom and went to Lot's house. The inhabitants of Sodom tried to seize them and ill treat them, but were prevented by sudden blindness. The object of the visit was attained—the wickedness of the people was proved. Only four righteous people were found, Lot and his wife and two daughters, and they made their escape, though Lot's wife perished on the way.

Russian Women Would Help On Front Line If Needed

"Anyone who calls women the weaker sex hasn't been to Russia. Rucking the cradle or wedding a pick—It's all the same to the distaff half of the Soviet Union.

British United Press Correspondent M. S. Handler took a trip down the Volga river and across the Caspian. And behind the front he saw Russian women doing everything men do and never letting the men get ahead of them.

The hand that rocks the Russian cradle also takes time out to run a locomotive or to operate an oil barge, or to serve an ship's officers, deck hands or stewards. Correspondent Handler says he's seen Russian women labor for six hours straight lifting and carrying huge packing cases with only brief rest periods. Handler says of Russian women:

"Should the day arrive when they are needed on the front line, Russia would suffer no shortage of women eager and capable of moving into the battle as fighting units."

TIP ABOUT CANDLES

If you keep your candles in the refrigerator, they'll not melt and will burn much longer when lighted. Also, decorative candles may be kept from melting down in warm weather if given a light coat of varnish.

SAFEGUARD HEALTH

Excessive hours of work, according to a report of the British Industrial Health Research Board, are, excepting for very short periods, utterly wasteful. A maximum work-week of from 50 to 60 hours for men and between 50 and 60 hours for women is recommended for best results during the war. As regards married women, special shifts are recommended so as to safeguard their health, reduce the labour turnover and loss of working time. The provision of the day nursery and other child welfare services for working mothers is a national program in Britain.

A maximum war production program recommended editorially by the Toronto Star suggests: the installation of facilities such as are serving the British workers and an increasing number of American workers. These facilities are restaurants where the employees may secure nourishing meals at nominal prices; medical services to prevent the development of serious illnesses, at a price they can afford to pay; rest periods and recreation services to give their minds and nervous systems rest and refreshment.

Ensures No Wastage

Britain Is Now Using New System For Reclaiming Rubber

Reclaiming rubber is usually a long and costly process, because it must be re-formed into raw material and then re-manufactured into the article required. But a new system has come into operation in Britain whereby scrap tires are utilized for the direct manufacture of certain articles. The process is simple, and ensures no wastage. The tread and underlaid are made into a compound for manufacturing such essential goods as rubber soles heels, baby carriages, tires, brake blocks, washers and other items invaluable for mechanical purposes. The body or carcass of the tire is made into other articles, by far the most important being repair patches. Old tires turned into washers for vehicles, innation and mounting pads, the latter preventing wear and friction when the body is mounted on the chassis.—Brandon Sun.

TEA ECONOMY

Now that tea is on the list of items to be conserved, we can learn from the experience of the people in England. They found out, many months ago, that this is a good recipe: "Before using tea, spread on sheet of where paper and place in furnace—not too hot—oven for ten minutes." As a result, they say, the tea will go twice as far and have a better flavor.—Brandon Examiner.

FOUND FRIENDS IN NEED

You just can't keep those woodland residents out of the news, and the moose seem to have the edge on the other animals in "making" the columns of the press. What is termed "the best moose story of the year" is vouched for by Charles B. Nichols, of Berwick, who claims he has the verification of a dozen or more people at Lake George. It appears that Bert Lutz, of Lake Paul, when crossing the Lake George barrens to the Valley on Sunday morning, saw a two-year-old cow moose lying beside the highway, and thinking it was sick or wounded, hurried to Morristown and notified George West, district game warden. A party, including the warden, Gerald West, Bert Lutz and C. B. Nichols went in the latter's truck to the place where Lutz had seen the moose, and sure enough, it was laying there, covered with flies.

The men had taken the precaution to carry a cattle apron gun with them and immediately applied it and released the animal from its torment. Deciding that the moose needed water, a rope was tied around its neck and the animal was led to the water.

Arriving at the lake the animal was put into the water, and for upwards of an hour it drank of the refreshing draught. Dozens of the cottagers at the lake gathered at the scene and those who had cameras had the opportunity for the shot of a lifetime. At dusk, the moose was still on the shore of the lake, evidently loath to leave its benefactors and the abundant water supply, the lack of which it was evidently suffering.

—Nova Scotia Correspondence.

Here's some more proof that these Nova Scotia moose are getting publicity minded, for one has also made the columns of The Dartmouth Patriot again this week:

"Residents of Lower East Chezzetcook gathered in their dozens last Sunday to see the year-old cow moose that adopted the farm of Everett Conrad as its home, and proved to be one of the tamest of its kind ever seen here.

"The animal was first discovered by Mrs. Conrad on her doorstep as she prepared to leave the house. She called her husband. At first it was believed it might be necessary to kill the animal, but its tameness persuaded the men of the district against this and it was finally led through the thrashing door to the barn. Since then Mr. Conrad has been feeding it browse, but from time to time the moose quits the barn and wanders down to a nearby brook for a drink, after which it immediately returns to the barn.

"Mr. Conrad is investigating a report to the effect the department of lands and forests is looking for a moose for show purposes, and if he finds this is true, he will turn it over to those officials. Except for a few 'burns' on the hind legs, the moose is in excellent condition, allows everyone to rub its nose and generally provides proof it is the tamest moose ever seen in the Chezzetcook district."

TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED VETERANS ARE WANTED

Once again Canada is calling more old comrades back to the colors, it is revealed with the recent announcement from Colonel H. E. Alley, officer commanding the Veterans' Guard of Canada, that 2,500 men, not over the age of 60 years, are needed immediately.

Major J. H. Gainer, M.C. district recruiting officer of Military District 13, has announced that, commencing on the morning of August 10th, four mobile recruiting units of the Veterans' Guard of Canada will set out in four different directions and will cover practically every town and village in the province of Alberta, seeking recruits for the Veterans' Guard of Canada.

Major F. J. Jenkins, adjutant of the 14th (Res.) Army Tank Battalion (Calgary Regiment), will cover the territory south of Calgary, to include McLeod, Pincher Creek, The Pass, Milk River, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Empress, Brooks, Bassano and all the districts surrounding, as far north as Red Deer and district, and west to Rocky Mountain House.

Complete itinerary of the hours and date that the recruiting officer will be in each town will be published in all weekly newspapers and radio stations will carry announcements of the towns to be visited each day. All those interested are requested to contact their local civilian recruiting officials as to the place to contact the recruiting officer in their various towns and districts.

Special representation is being made to the department of national defence at Ottawa to have the age limit of veterans eligible to join the Veterans' Guard raised from fifty to fifty-five years. Veterans who are interested in enlisting are also advised that special arrangements for "harvest leave" have been completed and that arrangements for same can be made if so desired.

The Veterans' Guard of Canada companies are called upon for service in this war in many parts of the Empire. Three new units of the Veterans' Guard have recently arrived overseas in various parts of the Empire, in addition to those already despatched, with men chosen proportionately from all the units of the guard in Canada. New duties have arisen in Canada necessitating the formation of six new companies and enlistment in the Veterans' Guard of Canada is for service anywhere in the world, and not for the purpose of "home defence" only, as is generally believed. Veterans of every trade and occupation are required; with duties and training planned in the light of physical abilities of the man of fifty.

ORANGE JUICE QUOTA

The poorest child in Great Britain gets orange juice and milk when the rich children often have to go without, reports Dr. Henry Lelper, American secretary of the World Council of Churches, recently back from Britain. "At a British Gallup poll," he said, "forty-eight per cent of the people voted that they would be willing to suffer greater limitations than they have already had to endure."

Dr. Lelper was impressed by the nurseries in England and Scotland which free mothers for industrial work. "They are the sort of thing that leads to the foundation of a new world order."

The Alberta Motor Association is receiving an honor certificate from the American Motor Association, the parent body, in recognition of having accomplished the greatest work and increase in membership during the past year. Mr. E. R. J. Forster received word to this effect last Saturday.

POOR FISHING

There are different ones who claim that, in some ways, they are war "casualties" without being in the battle zone, or in the services, such as people who have had their business handicapped or closed out, because of conditions. Here's a new slant on the situation, as given in the Middletown (Nova Scotia) Outlook:

"Fishermen of Margareville have found the Fundy waters, until this year, gave them fish enough from which to make a livelihood. But now, to catch a lone fish is a rarity. They are of the opinion that the bombing and machine gunning has had something to do with scaring the fish from these waters. If such is the case, we believe they should be compensated."

The Blairmore Elks' annual carnival on Saturday and Monday nights was very well attended and a success in every particular. Two of the major prizes went to Coleman, the third to Hillcrest.

Paul Kuschel, formerly of Blairmore, now hotelman and rancher of the Warner district, received a bad shaking up in a recent car accident and is patient in hospital at Lethbridge.

Funeral of Mrs. Annie Doback was held on Monday morning, and was very largely attended. The remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery following service at St. Anne's church.

With the enemy only twenty miles away, Britain is producing mighty weapons of war for herself and her Allies. Her production of planes now equals Germany's. She is producing 40,000 big guns a year, with 25,000,000 rounds of ammunition; and mil-lions of small arms with 2,000,000,000 rounds of ammunition. OVER ONE HUNDRED NEW INDUSTRIES

Nearly 30,000 British work people are now on war production in the 300 factories set up in Britain by refugees from Nazi persecution. They are helping to defeat their former oppres-sors by making glycerine for explo-sives, textile and leather service equipment, optical glass for binocu-lars and periscopes, diamond cutting tools, electrical equipment, metal al-loys, plywood and many other man-ufactures directly used in the war ef-fort.

Over one hundred industries entirely new to Britain have been establish-ed there by refugees since Hitler came to power, and valuable processes re-corded only in the minds of the in-ventors are at the same time Ger-many's loss and the Allies' gain.

Many of the refugees came over with little but their ideas and de-signs, all their equipment and most of their capital having been abandon-ed. But in these cases the U.K. gov-ernment, true to a tradition which dates back to the Flemish weavers of the 14th century, have not only given the exiles asylum, but assisted them with capital, equipment and premises.

Nearly one third of the new ven-tures, with a joint capital of $500,000 to $750,000, are on government trad-ing estates in South Wales, Tyneside and elsewhere, while others are in the industrial centres of London, Lan-cashire, Yorkshire, the Midlands and Scotland.

MUST MAKE STOPS AT ALL LEVEL CROSSINGS

Operating of cars with inadequate brakes is being checked up by police authorities in various centres of the province.

Recently, in Edmonton, convicts were registered when the accused were found guilty of having defective brakes.

Police are also reported to be keep-ing a sharp check on motor trucks that do not come to a stop at level railway crossings. A number of con-victions already have been entered for this offence.

Full power for the police to make checkups on defective brakes, is pro-vided for in the provisions of the Motor Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act.

Despite the safety campaigns car-ried on in this province, there are drivers who utterly neglect the brakes on their cars or do not have these inspected periodically.

The Alberta Motor Association stresses the need for observance of the elementary principles of sound safe driving on the highways.

While the 40-mile-per-hour max-imum speed limit set by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has had the effect of reducing the number of mo-tor accidents in Alberta, the co-op-eration of drivers also is needed, through having their cars inspected at reasonable intervals. This will en-sure not only efficient operation, but also proper safeguards against ac-cidents that might result in permanent or fatal injuries to persons or damage to property.

Nazis Face Difficulties

DURING THE THREE YEARS of the war the Nazis have had many victories and have acquired many thousands of square miles of territory. Up until the present time in most cases it has appeared that Hitler has had the advantages of greater numbers of men and machines, and frequently time has also been his ally. It has often been pointed out that as his conquests increased so did his responsibilities, and if one may judge by the stories which from time to time reach the outside world from Occupied Europe, it appears that the enforcing of the New Order must take much of the time and attention of the conquering Fuehrer. The activities of the "underground army" in Europe have been combatted by wholesale murder of the conquered peoples, yet they do not decrease and will no doubt continue, until the armies of the United Nations join them in force in a drive towards the heart of Germany.

The Spectre Of Famine

Other forces, at which Hitler cannot strike as easily as he can at defenceless people, are also working against him. From time to time there have been stories of food shortages in Europe. Recently Joseph W. Grigg, writing from London for the British United Press, reported that the German radio has admitted that eight million acres of crops were destroyed by the extreme cold last winter, which was said to be the most severe in one hundred and fifty years. The coming harvest is expected to be very small, for bad weather and insects have retarded growth, and there is said to be a shortage of six hundred thousand tons of grain. Potatoes and other vegetables, Mr. Grigg reports, are more scarce than they have been since 1918, and vegetables are being rationed at the rate of one pound a person each week. Farmers in Germany have been ordered to give their entire crops to the government, keeping nothing for themselves. For violation of this law, the Gestapo has decreed penalties ranging from fines of one hundred thousand marks, to death.

Hated Is Growing

There is also reported to be a grave shortage of fats and butter, and due to weather conditions there is an acute lack of fodder for cattle. The report continues that similar conditions exist in France, where farmers are selling such products as they have on the "Black Markets" rather than through government regulations. Although Hitler has sent many German workers to the Ukraine in an attempt to gather supplies, it is thought unlikely that he will receive a great deal from there, where the crop is said to be poor. With increased food restrictions, it is unlikely that the already poorly-fed people of Europe will feel more kindly toward those who have brought all this misery upon them. Although the Nazis may yet win a few more battles with men and machines, there is inevitably growing a tide of revulsion in Europe, which linked with the growing striking power of the United Nations, will one day bring about the end of Hitler's New Order and of all those who aided in its prosecution. It is known that starvation of the population in Germany had a great deal to do with her final collapse in 1918, and there is no doubt that this force is beginning to work again, and that it will be one of the weapons which will again bring about the defeat of the enemy.

Britain's Spitfires

Woman Played Vital Part In Development Of Famous Fighters

"In 1931," writes William Winter in the current issue of the aviation magazine, Flying, "Lady Houston unwittingly preserved for Britain the priceless Spitfire lineage. She put up nearly a half million dollars to finance the 1931 British Schneider Trophy team, the Air Council having lost interest in further competition on England's part. It was that team that won the famed trophy outright for England."

Before that, Lady Houston had financed the flight over Mount Everest. An English aviation correspondent, with whom the writer talked recently, pictured Lady Houston as a strong-willed, purposeful woman who was determined to do something worth while with her millions. According to this story, she had moved to the tax-free Isle of Jersey in the English Channel because of a tax dispute in England. Still she financed the winning Schneider team and according to hearsay, the original Vickers Wellington bomber.

"Thanks to Lady Houston, who seems to have had more aviation foresight than either the British or American Government in those days, R. J. Mitchell (designer of the Spitfire) was able to continue his experiments and finally to produce, as the greatest fighting ships of the present war."

Salads lend themselves so readily to decorative effects that for many years they had no more important part in diet than just that. But now, besides being highly decorative they are regarded by nutritionists as vital to the well-balanced diet. Rich in minerals and vitamins, the mixed salad or lettuce alone is becoming a staple food.

LET'S GO ALONE IS SALAD
Epicsures prefer lettuce salad mixed in a wooden bowl with wooden fork and spoon. Housewives prefer them because they are so easy to prepare. After following directions once or twice, anyone can make an excellent salad, and make it it just as they wish. Ends but always beginning with fresh, crisp lettuce, either leaf or head.

HERE'S HOW
Into the salad bowl put salt, pepper and paprika in quantities your judgment suggests and your taste confirms. Use extra salt (iodized) in summer to help prevent ill effects by heat. Add three tablespoons of vinegar, preferably tarragon, and six or eight tablespoons of salad oil. Mix thoroughly, adding a bit of peeled garlic if you want to be seriously regarded as a salad maker, then chopped celery, especially the green leaves, chichory, water cress, grated carrot or raw cauliflower. Grated cheese, well seasoned or definitely decorative, are regarded by nutritionists as vital to the well-balanced diet. Stir up thoroughly and serve in generous portions with crackers or thin well-buttered rye or whole wheat bread.

RABBITS DON'T MIND
Rabbits may enjoy wilted lettuce, humans, especially youngsters don't. There'd be fewer salad-refusers if it the vegetables, fruit and lettuce were always appetizingly fresh and crisp.

EVERY DAY IS SALAD DAY
There is a salad for every day in the year and it is important to develop your taste for them because of threatened shortages of costly goods. A postal card to the Western Division Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto, Ontario, will bring you a free vitamin chart for ready reference and a booklet "Salads that are Different."

The Individual Citizen's Army

A Weekly Column About This And That In Our Canadian Army.

By Alan Maurice Irwin

Some of the men who come in for more than their percentage of wise-cracks in the Canadian, or the British, or the American—and probably in the German and Japanese, for that matter—Army are the Intelligence Officers. The reason is obvious—but the facts don't substantiate the kidding.

Those of us on the outside are apt to think of "Secret Service" and to conjure up visions of daring spies who disguise themselves as organ-grinders or vegetable salesmen or glamorous syrens, or something like that. People like E. Phillips Oppenheim are responsible for that idea.

I am not saying that there is not a certain percentage of clever espionage work done by the Intelligence staffs of all armies but I do know that for every disguised operative who sneaks around in enemy territory there are a hundred careful, meticulous workers who spend long hours in offices at General Staff Headquarters sifting little bits of information that reach them from many sources.

They have a long, trying and arduous job to do, a job that calls for keen analysis, infinite painstaking—which has been called "genius"—devotion to duty and practical imagination. Nothing is too trivial for them to note, nothing so big that it can hide wanted facts from them. As you follow through the organization of your Army you find intelligence officers at Division, Brigade and Unit Headquarters, all engaged in the vasty important job of gathering information that will be of value to the High Command.

How do you imagine, for instance, that our official communiques are able to state that "so many men and guns composed the opposing force"?

Don't think that some prisoner of war, knocked down and told to begin with no individual soldier below the rank of a general would know it. And, it must be remembered, International Law protects a soldier from answering questions other than his name, rank, etc. If he is captured, that is, of course, when you are dealing with an enemy who respects International Law.

But when you have a number of intelligence officers, trained in their jobs, questioning a large number of prisoners on different parts of the front and rapidly forwarding their information through the channels provided to a central point where it is all correlated and analyzed it is surprising to the layman how much accurate information of incalculable value to the General Staff can be obtained even from answers that adhere to the instructions given to all soldiers to reveal nothing of their side's dispositions to their captors.

The same thing applies to the innocent little remarks some of us make at times to our friends, or to casual strangers we meet on the train or in a street car or at some gathering. We may think we are being very circumspect, we may feel that the information that our next-door neighbour's boy is home on his last leave does not convey anything. It doesn't in itself, especially if we have been very careful not to say whether he is going east or west—but this is a big bit, if in five or six other towns, five or six other people let out similar information something like this may happen.

Let us assume that the five or six soldiers referred to are from three or four different units. The innocent remarks are collected by enemy agents and relayed to a central point. At once it is known that in the next few days a contingent of however many troops those four units represent is going overseas. To that same point come little bits of other information—gathered, for instance, in a tavern or coffee shop near a railway yard where a yard foreman or one of his helpers innocently remarks to a colleague that he has "to make up a 14-day special tomorrow for the port of Suchandach." The central correlator of information has an approximation of the time and size of the movement.

That's all he needs! The next step is to send word to a radio command that within so many days a troop convoy may be expected to move from "Suchandach." Simple, isn't it?

So let's keep our mouths shut. And let's ask no questions of our soldier, sailor and airman friends.

On the other hand, don't forget that the Intelligence Officer of the Unit or Headquarters near you will be very interested in anything you have to tell him that you think may be of use in his work.

And, while we are on the subject of helping people to do their jobs, here in some intelligence work we can do in the Individual Citizen's Army. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board is fighting an enemy that will be as dangerous after the war as the common foe are today, the enemy called Post-war Inflation.

The Board maintains an intelligence system on somewhat the same lines as the Army. Not a regiment of moopers but a number of trained businessmen whose job it is to watch for the infiltration of uncontrolled inflation behind our economic lines. They, too, note little bits of unrelated information that filter in from all over the country and from their correlation of these facts are able to determine how to dispose their forces.

If you know of anything that is contributing to higher prices let the nearest representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. He will hold your name in confidence and you help him to fight your economic battles.

Boost Wheat Production

British Farmers May Have To Work At Night

Agriculture Minister Hudson told the House of Commons that plans for increasing wheat acreage in Britain might necessitate night work for farmers.

He said the area under wheat would be increased by 600,000 acres and "if certain arrangements we are discussing now mature, farmers will be expected to work by night as well as by day."

SOMETHING TO KNOW

When you have to have some plaster patched and the plaster has left dirty streaks on the floor, no matter how careful he tried to be, just dump plenty of vinegar in the pail of water with which you wipe the streaks up ... and presto, the floor will be as good as new!

SOLDIERS RUB OUT TIRED ACHE
MINARD'S LINIMENT

Contingent Of Canadian Troops Arrive In Britain

A British Port. — Thousands of Canadian soldiers, eager for a second front, and hundreds of ground crew for R.C.A.F. squadrons have arrived in Britain.

The large contingent had a smooth crossing from Canada which was practically without incident. Escorting warships dropped a few depth-charge patterns but it is not known definitely that the convoy was shadowed by submarines.

The army contingent included officers and other ranks of headquarters of an armored division expected to reach Britain before the end of the year.

There were reinforcements for almost every infantry regiment overseas and a large detachment of ordnance soldiers, hundreds of tank regiment reinforcements, a draft for the forestry corps and new troops for the army service corps and engineer, artillery, medical and signal units.

The air force men were mostly ground crew but there were a few pilots. One troopship carried 84 Canadian freighters for Britain.

It was a twilight arrival and a crowd of civilians abated a ferry at one landing stage cheered and waved to the Canadians.

After a quiet passage with the Atlantic like a millpond most of the way, these thousands of new troops entrained for camps and scattered from the Scottish Highlands to the English channel.

Although escorting warships dropped a few depth-bombs, it was not known definitely if submarines shadowed the convoy and the voyage passed practically without incident.

Hal Mills of Moose Jaw, Sask., a Canadian Legion sports officer who wore the blue uniform of the Royal Canadian Air Force, was among the Canadians arriving in Britain on the latest movement of men overseas.

"The Legion's going to be important to these men after the war," he said. "After the First Great War we tried for five or six years to get solid organization functioning."

"Now, these men will have a sound functioning organization behind them when they come home, and they'll need it."

Mills said he has been engaged in boys work since he returned from the First Great War.

RESTRICT COLORS

Out Down Number Of Shades In Paint And Varnish

Ottawa.—An order further restricting the number of colors and shades in which paint and varnish may be manufactured was announced by Mrs. Phyllis G. Turner, administrator of oils and fats.

The new order limits manufacturers to a maximum of 14 shades for first quality house paint compared with 32 previously on the market, restricts second quality house paints to 10 shades and third quality to six. Single stains and single paint combined have been reduced to 10 and varnish stains, exclusive of ground color, to four in each of three qualities. Barn and roof paint are pared to four shades.

RADIO EMPLOYEES

May Be Classified As Essential To War Industry

Ottawa.—Employees of privately-owned Canadian radio stations have been listed under section 15 of the national war services regulations, it was learned at the office of War Services Minister Thorson.

Under the section, it is provided that the minister may furnish national war services boards with lists of industrial or servicing activities deemed to be essential to the successful prosecution of the war. An employer engaged in any activity so listed is termed a "war industry."

RIVETER'S RECORD

Vancouver.—A new mark for Canadian shipyard riveters has been set by Johnny Gorenko, riveter in a west coast shipyard, and his gang. Gorenko drove 1,226 rivets in a seven-hour, 10-minute graveyard shift. Previous Canadian record was set by B. Hanson, another west coast shipyard riveter.

HARVEST HELP

Winnipeg.—Hon. Douglas Campbell, Manitoba agriculture minister, said the Manitoba government is trying to arrange with the federal government for special railway rates to help farmers of harvest help during the coming harvest season.

PROVE EFFECTIVE

New Anti-Aircraft Guns Were Used Recently By British

London.—Britain's newest, secret anti-aircraft guns had their first real test a week ago as the Nazi air force, favored by a full moon, sent over the largest number of planes to reach England in several months.

The anti-aircraft defenses, extremely active, were prompted to have been manned jointly by male gunners and girls of the Auxiliary Territorial Service who have been manning such intricate devices as predictors for some time, although there was no official disclosure to such effect.

The new guns appeared to be widely employed but no detailed description of them was permitted. Listeners knew something unusual was happening when they heard the novel twang in the midst of the familiar bang and crash of gun and cannon.

The stinging reception they gave the Nazis, coupled with the activity of the night fighters, made the Germans spread themselves and prevented them from inflicting any concentrated damage.

Casualties In Hong Kong Said To Be Lower

Ottawa.—Defence department officials discounted unofficial estimates from Lourenco Marques, Portuguese East Africa, that casualties among Canadian contingent at Hong Kong in defence of the colony were from 50 to 60 per cent. of the total of 4,200 men sent from the Dominion.

The Canadian force sent to Hong Kong was 1,965 officers and men. Shortly after Hong Kong fell the Japanese reported they had taken 1,689 Canadian prisoners of war. It was assumed on that basis that the number dead and missing was 296 or a little less than 15 per cent.

A few of the prisoners subsequently died in custody, but no information has been received which would indicate the original report of 1,689 prisoners was wrong.

The department of external affairs released a communication from the International Red Cross saying that visits to prisoners of war camps in Hong Kong show that the health of the prisoners, including Canadians captured in the fall of Hong Kong appears to be "very good" and that the prisoners show appreciation of "good treatment."

The communication, received from Geneva by E. L. Maag, delegate of the International Red Cross committee, described as "satisfactory" the conditions regarding housing, food, clothing, canteens, hospitalization, dental care, recreation, library and religious life.

Visits were made to the North-point internment camp, containing 65 officers, 810 non-commissioned officers and 1,202 other ranks—All Canadians with the exception of 28 Danish marines. Shamshuipo camp, containing 65 officers, 1,151 non-commissioned officers and 2,779 other ranks, and Artyle Street camp, containing 474 officers, 19 non-commissioned officers and 93 orderlies.

VICTORY IN 1945

Wearing a brace on his leg to hold a crushed rib in place, Capt. Randolph Churchill, son of Britain's prime minister, is pictured in New York after arriving from Egypt with U.S. pilots, en route to London. He was involved in a motor crash in Egypt. Capt. Churchill declared during his visit that "if we're lucky" the United Nations would win the war by the end of 1945.

American Tanks In Australia

Australian tankmen practice hopping out of their U.S.-made iron buggies in the event that a quick exit would be necessary. This tank is one that was received in the first quota of lend-lease tanks from the U.S. The tanks are manned by Australian crews; mostly trained tankmen from Africa.

HELP FOR PRAIRIES

Need Lumber From B.C. To Build Grain Storage

Vancouver.—Assistant Timber Controller T. D. Roseberry told a group of prairie lumbermen here that British Columbia would make a "desperate effort to help the prairies" in their urgent need for lumber for construction of facilities for storage of one of the largest grain crops in history.

Mr. Roseberry said he did not know the full extent of British Columbia's probable contribution, as the prairies represent only one of several big markets asking for all-out production from B.C.'s lumber mills.

"Our job is to allocate the output and available stocks wherever the need is most urgent," he said. H. Steinbohrer, head of the delegation, said the prairies will use the lumber that they get from the coast not only for the building of farm granaries, but also for the housing for a greatly increased number of livestock. The big livestock population has in turn made necessary the storage of larger amounts of feed grain.

Included in the prairie delegation were A. K. Godfrey, Winnipeg; R. J. Gourey, Winnipeg; J. T. Davies, Charter Wentz, both of Saskatoon; W. A. Snider, Moose Jaw; Norris Stoltz, Lethbridge; A. E. Critchley, Calgary; Ed. Stacey, Edmonton.

FIND SECRET STORES

Italian Equipment Found In Eritrea Comes In Handy

Cairo.—Secret stores of guns, ammunition, machinery and other equipment hidden away by the Italians in their former colony of Eritrea on the Red Sea coast are providing much-needed scrap metal for the war plants at the United States base there.

The stores were piled up by the Italians over a period of years and apparently were intended for use in possible campaigns against the Sudan, Egypt and the Arabian peninsula, reports to Cairo said.

AIR COOLED TANKS

London.—Oliver Lyttelton minister of state in charge of production, told the House of Commons that the ministry of supply has formed a committee to study the possibilities of air-cooled tanks for desert warfare.

BEEF CATTLE

Move To Supply Cattle For Feed Lots East And West

Ottawa.—J. G. Taggart, foods administrator of the wartime prices and trade board, told members of the beef cattle advisory committee here that efforts would be made to reach an early decision in the matter of assuring sufficient supplies of feeder cattle for the feed lots in the east and west.

Addressing the concluding session of a two-day conference, Mr. Taggart said such efforts would be made by the Wartime Food Corporation, crown company which buys at export prices cattle intended for export and diverts the best to the domestic market.

A price board statement quoted Mr. Taggart as saying the corporation would attempt to co-ordinate the viewpoints of eastern and western cattle interests with the object of assuring a continuous flow of finished beef throughout the year for Canadian consumers.

The viewpoint of the western ranchers, who provide the chief supplies of feeder stock, was placed before the conference by George Ross of Aden, Alta., president of the Short Grass Cattleman's Association and vice-president of the Western Stock Growers' Association.

A Registration Of Women For War Industry

Ottawa.—A registration of Canadian women, aimed at finding workers for war industry and replacing men for military service, is expected to be held soon—perhaps within the next month—but its scope is still undetermined.

Officials of national selective service are known to be considering such a registration, which was forecast recently by Elliott M. Little, selective service director, in an address here. But it was understood they have not yet decided whether the registration should be Dominion-wide or confined to certain localities and certain types of workers and age groups.

During his address, Mr. Little emphasized Canada's tightening manpower situation by saying that the government must find 250,000 persons within the next five months for war industry and service in the armed forces. A registration of womanpower would be part of that job.

The government recently made a registration of unemployed men, which will be repeated every two weeks to keep constant check on the pool of available manpower.

PROVES SUCCESS

Glider-Plane Made In Canada Has Had Flight Tests

Toronto.—The first Canadian-made glider-plane has come through its flight tests successfully, officials of de Havilland Aircraft said. The glider reached an altitude of 5,800 feet in the course of a two-hour flight which included a forced spin, from which it recovered with ease, and various types of dives. It was towed into the air by a Tiger Moth plane and released at 1,380 feet.

Plan To Tighten The Control Of Supply Of Labor

Ottawa.—Tightening of control over Canada's manpower supply is expected to be announced shortly with the enforcement of new orders now being framed.

One of the most important steps understood to have been decided on is the provision of a "cooling off" period between the time of dismissal or resignation of an employee and the time he actually leaves employment.

This new approach to the problem of shifting manpower, which Elliott M. Little, director of national selective service, is referred to as one of the most serious wage in Canadian labor, will halt hasty action both on the part of the employer and employee. It is anticipated the compulsory "cooling off" period will be one week.

Regulations soon to be announced are expected also to eliminate the three days of grace at present provided in reporting job changes to employment offices.

Following the announcement June 17 of regulations which make it necessary for employers to obtain permits from an employment office for all new employees, regulations were relaxed through the provision of a three-day period of grace so that an employer could engage a new man without a permit if he reported the employment within three days. Approval then was required in the form of a permit from the selective service office who is also manager of the employment office.

Organization of the employment offices to handle the heavy requirements of the selective service program now has reached a point where this is no longer necessary, and it is expected that announcement will be made in the near future that proposed job changes must be reported and a permit obtained before the new employee can be hired and start work.

Absenteeism is another major problem which is being actively studied and on which some action is expected in the near future. Selective service studies have shown manpower waste running as high as from 15 to 25 per cent. in some plants.

This condition is understood to be particularly serious in plants where large numbers of women are employed. The number of women in industry is constantly increasing.

Improvement of working conditions is considered at least a partial solution for this problem and co-operation of employers is being enlisted in an energetic campaign now being carried on by selective service officials.

Mr. Little has already made it clear that the government will "have to seek women out and dig them up in the future and guide them into the work which must be done." That is another matter which is understood to be the subject of numerous selective service conferences these days.

The Queen Accepts Presentation From Women Of Canada

London.—Seven mobile kitchens presented by the women of Canada were accepted by the Queen at an informal ceremony at Canadian Red Cross headquarters in Berkeley Square.

The presentation was made by Viscountess Bennett, who said Canadian women offered the kitchens as practical evidence of their sympathy and pride in the heroic conduct of their fellow subjects of the crown in this island.

NO OUT IN POSTAGE

Ottawa.—Postmaster-general Mulock said in the House of Commons he would hold out little hope of a reduction in postal rates during the war. Speaking during consideration of post office estimates, Col. Mulock said suggestions for increased postal rates had been made, instead of reductions being proposed.

We must thank "Doc" Lillie for an enlarged picture of several fish landed by Vaughn and ourselves several years ago.
